THE MODERN BOURSE
TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK, NY

Instinet, the oldest electronic commerce business has become a leading internet dot-com. For the new world headquarters in New York it was important to express this growth through the design elements we chose for the space in a spirit of fresh-thinking and humor. Inspired by the original stock exchanges of Europe and the US, we merged some of the powerful distinguishing features of old world banking style with the efficiencies of the new digital working environment. Customized furnishings were required for the multi-level executive offices, boardroom and common meeting areas.
